SENIOR DAY

It is all over but the shouting; that day which all students look forward to . . . SENIOR DAY.

The theme of the play was "Time Marches Around," and everything did go around. Miss Carson, the faculty director of the play, was seen riding bicycles, singing arias, doing the can-can dance, and swinging a mean hip in the conga line.

The class presented an evening and morning performance. The seniors were given the eighth period for their customary dancing in the girls' gym. Between the class periods seniors were seen promenading the halls and yard in their brightest array.

Two combination fountain pen and pencil sets were awarded to the two seniors who wore the most unique senior day costumes. Betty Rae Matthiesen was awarded a set for her victory garden dress, which consisted of radishes, carrots, and many varieties of vegetables. Elwyn Williams, who impersonated a Hawaiian hula girl, was also awarded a set.

The following names are those of the students who made up the cast of the senior day play: the barber shop quartet consisted of John Ormasa, Bill Haigwood, Dick Teeter, and Spiro Cakos; the can-can girls consisted of Betty Evans, Henrietta Grcina, Iris Tillman, Eunice Rahwyler, and Peggy Tuttle; the conga-chorus consisted of Gene Jack, Louise Filice, Letizia Cassoni, Helen Poulos, Trinidad Hernandez, and Lenora Urquhart; the supporting cast, Ruth Remell, Barbara George, Al Kraus, Joyce Maloni, Edwin Carlson, Russell Knotts, Charles Myhre, Cliff Barsten, Gene Rude, Oscar Davis, Harvey Doron, Ann Thomas, Lucille McIntosh, Orland Catrino, Wayne Wanlass, Bette Wilson, Ken Ainsworth, Jean Rubins, Jack Maxwell, Gwynneth Ingram, Betty Stark, Elaine Jones, Patty Rogers, Jo Macfie, Allen Sharpe, Edna Sincich, Pete Accornero, Zalia Stedman, Inez Erps, Frances O'Connell, Dorothy Stevenson, and June Dahl.

have contributed to the strife for victory and the defense of our government through their study of current problems, post-war plans and the history of democracy. As a result of their study, students will leave high school with the ability to face the problems which are confronting the nation today.

2-11
CLASS

LOW SENIOR CLASS

The eighty members of the 1-12 class, like every other class, have not had any class activities or social affairs this term.

At the beginning of the term the nominating committee chosen consisted of Joe Durand, Robert Russell, Billy Kirk, and Doris Krenzer. This committee was not allowed to act toward the electing of class officers because of the change in the school schedule.

This year's 1-12 class had a very outstanding group. The student body president, James O'Drain, is a member, and Orwynne Lufkin, Howard Thompson, Theresa Persico, Leonard Sullivan, Mary Malloy, and Mary Ambrosio are members of the C. S. F.

The eighty members of the class comprise the smallest group of 1-12's known to have been at Richmond High in the past ten years.

CLASS

JUNIOR CLASS

This term the 1-11 class had 150 students attending Richmond Union High and the 2-11 class had 280.

Some outstanding students in the 1-11 and 2-11 classes were Hazel Conn, surgical dressing leader, and Jacqueline Thompson, honor society. Charles Thompson and Charles Seger have already become well known in the sports world.

SOPHOMORE CLASS

Because of war conditions this semester the sophomore class decided it was best not to have class officers and activities.

SENIOR ACTIVITIES

Active and democratic in its activities was the Senior Class of June, 1943. President Spiro Cakos, assisted by Vice-president Patty Rogers and Secretary Patricia Crough, completed a successful term of office in spite of the many obstacles in their path.

A "Sadie Hawkins" dance marked the first party held by the class, in the girls' gym on March 19. Sponsored by the P.-T. A., it was the second senior party to be held at night in R. U. H. S. in many a year. The party was a gala affair, with the gym dressed in typical barn fashion, and the students dressed in various hill-billy costumes. It was a party which will long be remembered by the seniors.

A second party was held at the Richmond Club House on April 9. Among the sponsors were Mr. and Mrs. Doron and Mr. and Mrs. Rude. This party was a sport dance and was an extra-curricular activity.

The last activity of the class was the Senior Prom, held on June 12 at the Twentieth Century Club in Berkeley. Those who attended were members of the senior class and their invited guests.

Among the graduating seniors are many who have been active in various sports. Last season football had such stars as: center, Bob Nairne; left guard, Harvey Doron; right tackle, Spiro Cakos, and Sterling Kelley, a bucking fullback.

As the day of graduation comes closer there will be many a senior man not graduating with his fellow classmates. They may not be with us in body on graduation night, but they will be with us in spirit.

Sports

are important in the preservation of democracy in that they contribute to the development of coöperation and understanding among the students. Such programs as physical fitness help to prepare the boys for their future job in the fighting ranks of the armed service.

INTRAMURAL

Intramural basketball, which was first organized in 1934 to give the boys a pre-season work-out before trying out for the varsity and B basketball teams, was a very successful league until this semester. Because of the disastrous fire that destroyed Roosevelt Junior High School, it was impossible to carry out the plans that had been worked out for the semester's competition.

The size of the classes forced Coach Hempler to divide the teams into four different parts, A, B. C. and D divisions.

The competition in the different classes was exceptionally good and the league, if plans were permitted to be carried out, would have been one of the best intramural programs ever worked out.

Well-known baseball and basketball players who signed up for intramural this semester were Wayne Wanlass, Norman Graber, Leonard Sullivan, Ted Ivancich, Delvin Babb, and George Tor-vick, all of whom had previous varsity and B basketball experience. This made the competition much stronger.

Norman Graber, Ted Ivancich, and Leonard Sullivan were also well-known for their baseball ability on the school baseball team.

Including all of the divisions there were ninety-two basketball teams and forty-six baseball teams. These teams played an elimination series in each class period, and class winners in each division were thus established.

In addition to the intramural program there were also plans to organize basketball teams for a league to be played on Wednesday evenings at the school gym. They, too, were laid aside on account of the disastrous fire.

Plans are now being made to carry forward an intramural program next term that will involve all boys in the school.

Come on, fellas, turn around!

PHYSICAL

Physical fitness plays a large role in the preservation of democracy. A nation must be healthy and alert before democracy can attain its fullest degree of success.

A very extensive physical fitness program is being carried out in this school under the direction of coaches Bob Pascoe and Phil Hempler. This program helps the boys of the school to better their physical condition.

Simple military commands are taught to the boys. They are graded on their alertness and response to these commands. Warming-up and conditioning exercises are given to the gym classes. These exercises tend to make the boys use muscles which are otherwise not used.

Tumbling is also taught to the boys. This helps the fellows develop coördination. One of the things stressed in military training is coördination. Tumbling helps the students to gain this coör-dination before entering the armed forces of their country.

The climax of the physical program is the obstacle course. This is a test to see what the boys have accomplished.

Competitive sports are emphasized by the army and navy. The boys are engaging in competitive baseball and basketball during their gym periods. Captains and teams are elected from each gym class to compete with other teams in the same class and a considerable degree of friendly rivalry is obtained in this manner.

Richmond Union High School students have shown marked interest in this physical fitness program. They realize that they are helping to keep democracy alive by keeping themselves at all times physically fit.

JUST ANOTHER LAP TO GO!

YELL LEADERS
CHUCK SEGER, SHEILA LOUCK, RICHARD CALKINS

YELL LEADERS

Sheila Louck, who was elected head yell leader for the spring semester, chose as her assistants Charles Seger and Richard Calkins.

Had there been sports events, the new yells they had worked up would have added enthusiasm to the events, but, because of the war, all sports events were cancelled.

As a result, the position of assistant yell leader was an honorary one, and Sheila acted as a member of the Commissioners' Council.

MANAGERS

As soon as any work in the gym comes up, such as passing out towels, taking care of all the equipment, acting as first aid man and filling out absence slips, a hurried call is sent out for the manager. A manager must work in the gym for three terms before he receives his Block "R."

Although he is not here this term, the graduating manager is Sherrod Davis. Sherrod went on to Stanford at the end of his 1-12 semester. The 1-12 manager is Bill Fuson. The 2-11's are Max Metzger, Myrel Moss, and Martin Streich. Those who are 1-11's are Warner Healey and Wayne Westover. The 2-10's are Harold Chitwood, Clyde Ferreira, Bob Gall, Kenneth Jordan, Robert Kochener, Roy Pardini, Richard Pearson, Stanley Ristrem, and Robert Seymour. Low sophs are Frank Gorgen, Milton Perry, and Charles Steel.

First row — Charles Steele, Milton Perry, Kenneth Jordan.
Second row — Stanley Ristrem, Clyde Ferreira, Robert Kochener, Max Metzger, Bill Fuson, Frank Gordon.
Third row — Harold Chitwood, Wayne Westover, Dick Pearson, Martin Streich, Warner Healey, Myrel Moss, Robert Seymour.

FIRST AID

G. A. A. — 2-10 WINNERS
Kneeling—June Griffith, Dorothy Williams, Lois Patrice. Standing — Wilma Uphouse, Lillian Bittick, Maurine Quinland.

Many girls relinquished their gym period in order to take part in a more constructive activity, first aid, this term.

First Aid is the immediate, temporary treatment given in case of accident or sudden illness before the services of a physician can be secured.

The preceding paragraph is taken from the first page of the Standard First Aid text book of one of the one hundred 2-11, 1-12, and 2-12 girls who have taken first aid this term. Some of the important skills that these girls have learned to apply successfully are: the traction and other types of leg and arm splints; the many pressure points of the body; the treatment of different kinds of shock; and, how to transport seriously injured people.

The first aid classes, directed by Miss MacLaurin, Mrs. Clark, and Mrs. Moitoza, were primarily started for the girls of Richmond High School, but five boys who were interested came at 7:30 in the morning to complete the twenty first aid hours required of everyone who is to hold a first aid certificate.

This first aid course will be invaluable in this present day and in the future, and the training the students received will aid them in the future in many ways, for some of the girls intend to be doctors or nurses.

FIRST AID

BASEBALL MANAGERS

Standing—La Verne Young, Helen Quinlan, Alice Bench, Frances Favero, June Griffith, Mary Ujdur.
Kneeling — Marguerita Bertolli, Thea Hart, Betty Evans, Helene Arceneaux.

G. A. A.

Basketball was the first sport of the season in G. A. A. The girls were led by their captains: Jeanice Shelton, Phyllis Burke, Joanna Scancello, La Verne Antone, Mary Cole, Gloria Palenchar, Helen Quinlan, Dorothy Williams, Lolita Miller, Betty Evans, Trini Hernandez, and Evelyn Mello.

The 2-10 Reds won their chenile numerals by defeating the 2-10 Tigers, and the 1-10's won their felt numerals by defeating the 2-11 Z's. The girls receiving these awards were: Dorothy Williams, June Griffith, Wilma Uphouse, Lois Patrice, Laurel Aikens, Maurine Moore, Elizabeth Radcliffe, Annetta Whitz, Ellen Gohl, Vivian Walker, and Virginia Garrand.

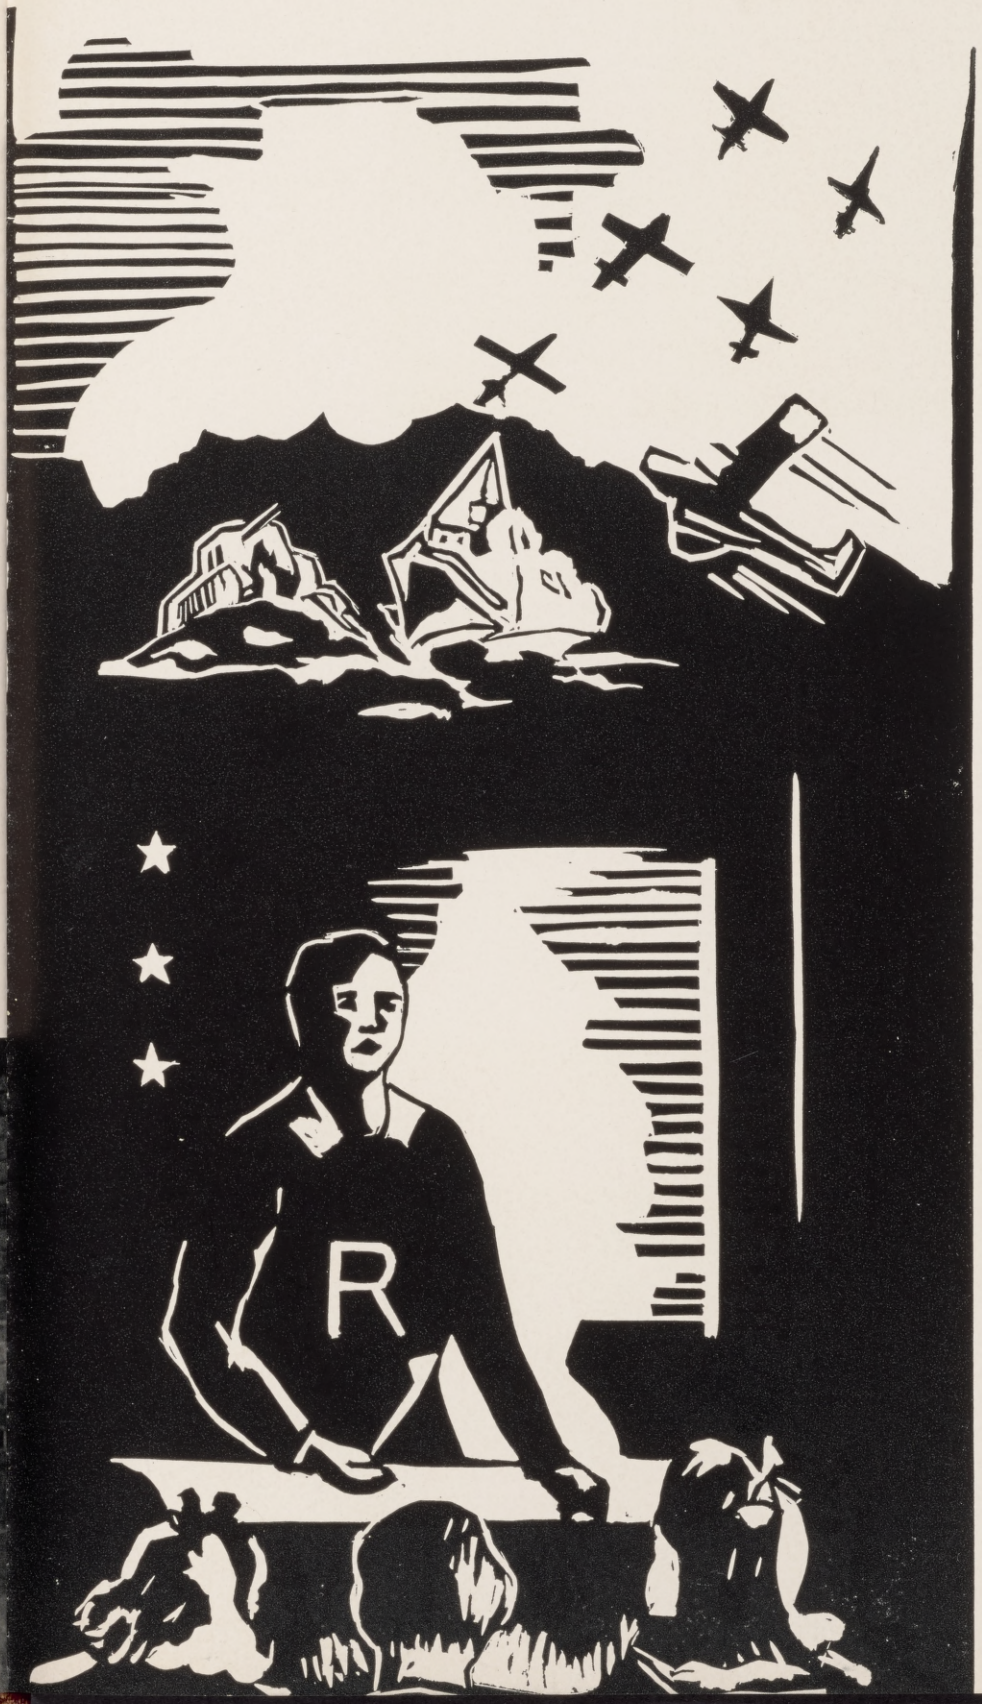

Because of conditions brought on by the war, the University of California Playday was the only activity of its kind given this term. Frances Favero, G. A. A. president, and several other girls, attended.

Baseball was played the latter part of the season under the direction of Mrs. Clark.

G. A. A.

1:10 Winners: standing — Mildred Marcus, Ellen Gohl, Virginia Garrand, Mary Ujdur, Vivian Waller.
Kneeling — Jeanice Shelton, Elizabeth Radcliffe, Annetta Whitz.

Leonard Sullivan, this term's president of the Richmond Chapter of the California Scholarship Federation, led the society in carrying on the good work that previous groups have accomplished.

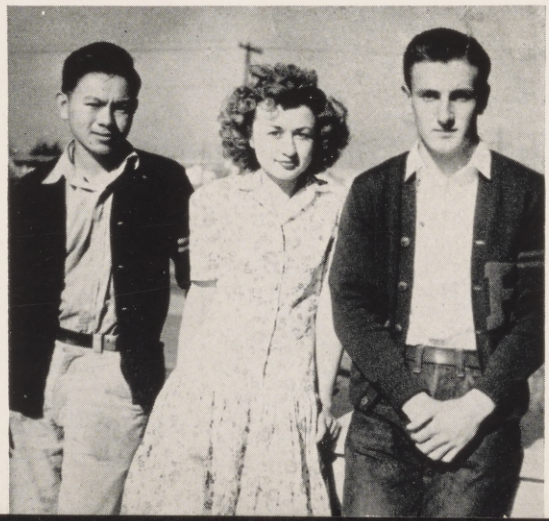

The society sent a subscription of "Life" magazine to the soldiers in Australia, and kept our "Minute Man" flying by their weekly sales of bonds and stamps.

Several students this term received their life-time C. S. F. pins. They were Joyce Maloni, Rose Resch, Frances O'Connell, Doris Stribley, Pattirae Moore, Gene Jack, Laura Hackett, Betty Stark, Pearl Kristovich, and Dick Teeter.

The social event of the term was a picnic held at Lake Anza on May 26, which was planned by Barbara Williams, social chairman.

Officers this term were: Leonard Sullivan, president; James Gok, vice-president; Ruth Remell, secretary; Barbara Williams, social chairman.

C. S. F. OFFICERS
JAMES GOK, RUTH REMELL, LEN SULLIVAN

COMMISSIONERS

Sitting — Letizia Cassoni, Betty Stark, Sheila Louck, Jim O'Drain, Frances Favero, Pearl Kristovich.
Standing—Walt Bebich, Bob Leggett, Spiro Cakos, Harry Chew, Dick Teeter.

COMMISSIONERS

The commissioners, who are the officers of our student government, accomplished several things this past year in spite of the difficulties which confronted them.

Those who assisted Jim O'Drain, student association president, are: Bob Leggett, vice-president; Betty Stark, secretary; Walter Bebich, commissioner of law and order; Frances Favero, commissioner of girls' athletics; Letizia Cassoni, commissioner of social affairs; Dick Teeter, student judge; Harry Chew, prosecuting attorney; Spiro Cakos, commissioner of boys' athletics; Sheila Louck, yell leader.

These officers purchased $2,000 worth of War Bonds with the student body funds. These bonds will be used to buy new football uniforms, support more school dances, and provide other social activities which, because of various reasons, we were unable to have this semester.

During the term, two student dances were held. The first was given in honor of President Washington and President Lincoln. The second was a sport dance having no particular theme.

The commissioners have been giving a great amount of their time in completing the revision of the old constitution. It is modeled after the government of the United States, including a Senate and House of Representatives. It also provides for a strong budget control for the expenditures of the student association.

BETTY STARK, secretary, and

PRE-FLIGHT CLASS

First row — Oscar Davis, Harold Rhoades, John Ormasa.

Second row—Bob Leggett, Myrel Moss, Glenn Todhunter, Bob Willis, Bill Boren, Pat Crough, Jo Durand, Bill Haigwood, Bob Trimiloni, John Larson.

PRE-FLIGHT

Pre-flight training was continued this year for those prospective aviators interested in the basic fundamentals of aviation.

Under the leadership of Mr. Bush, the boys and girls have studied the parts of an airplane and the function of each part, in addition to designs for stability, gliding, horsepower, wind velocity, and navigation.

There were nineteen students enrolled in the class this term.

WINGED SHIELD

The purpose of the Winged Shield is to establish order at games, dances, and other student body affairs. This organization is made up of boys who have earned one or more varsity letters, yell leaders, and commissioners.

The Winged Shield, under the sponsorship of Mr. Waugh, looks forward to maintaining order and "good will" at the football games next fall.

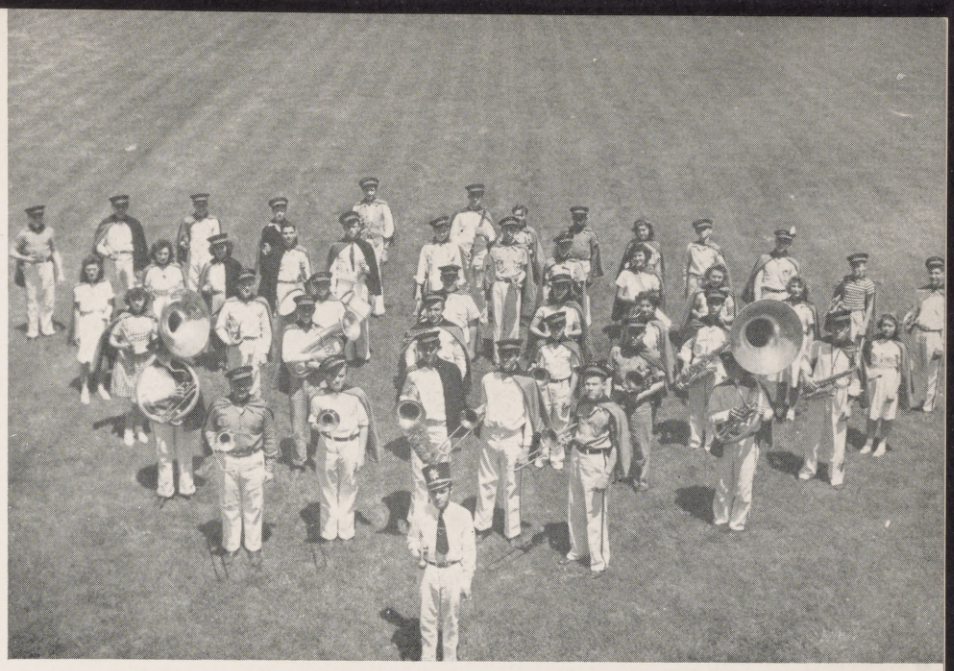

WINGED SHIELD SOCIETY

Kneeling—Harvey Doron, Bill McCulloch, George Thompson, George Newell, Spiro Cakos, Ted Ivancich.

Standing—Bob Nairne, Len Sullivan, Wayne Wanlass, Sterling Kelley, Keith Yeager, Charles Davidson, Eddie Hamel.

The band, under the direction of Mr. Turner Brashear, presented four successful performances this semester. They were a band concert at school, a May Day program, a rally at the Elks' Club for the opening of the Bond Drive, and the opening of the Merchants' Baseball League. They also played for several student body programs.

The forty-eight members of the band this year are: Frances Aebi, Glen Anderson, Otto Bewley, Kenneth Cacy, Orland Catrino, John Catrino, Clifford Christianson, Ruth Clarke, Kenneth Dasher, Edward Dodson, Dorothy Edgmon, Ylita Fife, Joe Filice, Bob Fortina, James Foster, Bill Foster, Howard Garrison, Russell Garvin, Lita Gildersleeve, Bob Griffith, Walter Hamilton, Howard Harvey, Evelyn Van Hise, Bernard Harless, Harold Hull, Stanley Loiseau, Bill Lee, Dick Leupp, Dorothy Lynn, Robert Manning, James Maxwell, Bill McNeill, Richard McNeill, Jane Mickelson, Carolyn Moore, Arlene Phillips, Leslie Rose, Olen Skaggs, T. J. Stewart, Charles Sudduth, Lois Suffern, Marvin Thorp, Louise Walker, Jolene Wardlow, Verl White, Melba Wyrich, and Barbara York.

ORCHESTRA

One of the biggest projects the orchestra has accomplished this term is the making of records used for accompaniment to the moving picture showing activities around the school, such as Red Cross work, pre-flight training, and physical fitness. This movie was shown all over Contra Costa County.

The orchestra has played for several student body programs, with the A Cappella and band. On May 23 the orchestra played for the graduation of the citizenship class in Richmond.

No high school is complete without a good orchestra to participate in school entertainments, and our orchestra, under the direction of Mr. Brashear, has contributed much to make our programs enjoyable.

A CAPPELLA

MR. CUNNINGHAM

The tenth A Cappella Choir of Richmond High presented many programs to Richmond audiences this spring.

On Palm Sunday the choir sang at the Community Methodist Church in El Cerrito, and on May 16 a program of religious music was presented at the St. Luke's Methodist Church in Richmond. Programs were also sung at the Richmond Lions' Club and Elks' Club, besides two programs for Richmond High students.

On Sunday, May 30, the annual Spring Concert was given at Roosevelt Auditorium. Gladys Brashear, former member, was soloist. A brass ensemble composed of Joe Filice, Russell Garvin, Kenneth Dasher, Kenneth Cacy, Bob Grupe, Howard Harvey, and Stanley Laiseau, played two numbers.

The Junior Choir was disbanded this year because of the half-day schedule; however, twelve members were taken into the Senior Choir as auxiliaries. They were: Elva Agostini, Virgina Anglum, Ransom Cannon, Bob Ceridono, Virginia Fessenden, Ilene Fries, Emil Holtz, Joanne Kiraly, Irma Jane Kraus, James McCullough, Thais Metteer, Regina Stewart. Two regular members not pictured were Arthur Press and David Fink.

BETWEEN CLASSES

1. Collins in the home stretch.
2. Surprised, Shirley?
3. Where are the two shadows, Hamel?
4. Between classes??
5. Always time for chattering.
6. Don't shove. Don't crowd. Just push!
7. The last mile!
8. What, again?
9. Me and my shadow.

LIBRARY STAFF

The library staff members have been very efficient and competent this term and deserve honorable mention for their services. This term the library girls received credit for their services by getting their hours for the Victory Corps.

A theater party and a term banquet held May 20 in the Community Theater were the activities enjoyed by the staff.

Officers for the term were: Jo Durand, president; Alice Wall, vice-president; Isabelle Page, secretary; Frances Favero and Biddy Lou Wolverton, assistants.

L. O. L.

Meetings held by the L. O. L. this term were combined with making surgical dressings at Lincoln School. The girls were able to have a few of their meetings at Alvarado Park, as the City Council gave them permission to use the hall.

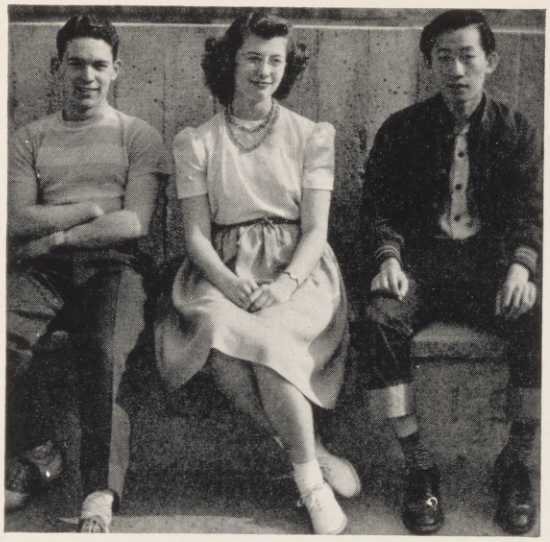

Officers for the term were: Effie Gay Wilson, president; Violet Harrison, vice-president; Geraldine Johnson, secretary-treasurer; Laura Hackett, song leader; and LaVange Haigwood, program chairman.

An ice skating party held April 2, a picnic held April 28, and a senior banquet held May 19 are just a few of the many activities enjoyed by the L. O. L.

L .O. L.

MAINTENANCE COMMITTEE
ALLEN SHARPE, SUZANNE HURST, HARRY CHEW

Traffic, Maintenance Committees

The Maintenance Committee, under the supervision of Harry Chew, was active this term in giving out slips to many students who failed to keep their lockers clean. Several trials were held as a result of the slips, but all persons brought in by the committee pleaded guilty, making the meting out of sentences an easy job for the student judge.

The Traffic Committee, also under the supervision of Mr. Waugh, boys' dean, and Harry Chew, students' leader, has done excellent work this term.

The ultimate goal of the committee is to enlarge the traffic system and eventually to make several decided improvements in our school. During the latter part of the semester the committee disbanded because of the school schedule.

Some of the members of the group who are not pictured below are: Ed Carey, Darrol Huzefka, Marian Hallihan, Wayne Wanlass, Lawrence Regello, Veral Orr, Harvey Doron, Bob Rowley, Al Kraus, and Bob Fine.

Harry Chew, head of both traffic and maintenance, is a 1-12. Probably Harry will not return to school next fall as he expects to enter the Armed Forces sometime this summer.

Plans for next term's activities have not been completed as yet. It is understood though, that a little more enforcement of the rules will be used.

TRAFFIC COMMITTEE
Sitting — Patty Keading, Jean Brown, Lucy Cepernich, Alice Williams, Orwyne Lufkin, Ann Miner, Mary Malloy, Theresa Persico.
Standing—Bob Luck, Harry Chew, Len Sullivan, Al Kerbavez, Bob Nicol, Delvin Babb, Bill Kirk.

JOURNALISM CLASS

JOURNALISM CLASS

Among the changes made at Richmond High this term are those which were made in the journalism classes.

Because of the war conditions, the print shop was not available for printing the Hi-Nus. This handicap was overcome by having the school paper printed at the Independent Print Shop. Because of the shortage in materials, the Hi-Nus was published every other week instead of every week.

This term Journalism I and Journalism II classes were combined, under the direction of Mr. Brien, as many teachers are now with the armed services. On the Hi-Nus staff this term were: Bonnie Bird, editor; Stella Freitas, assistant editor; Spiro Cakos, sports editor; Allen Sharpe, advertising manager; Bob Nicol, business manager. THE SHIELD staff included Henrietta Grcina, editor; Gene Jack, assistant editor; Felice Gillette, business manager; Reggie Donatello, photographer.

HI-NUS STAFF—Spiro Cakos, Bonnie Bird, Bob Nicol, Stella Freitas, Allen Sharpe.

SHIELD STAFF — Felice Gillette, Henrietta Grcina, Gene Jack, Reggie Donatello.

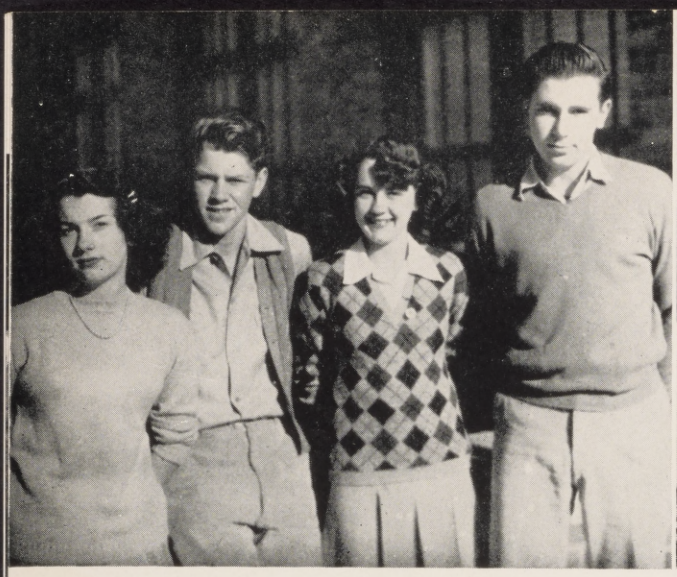

Victory Corps

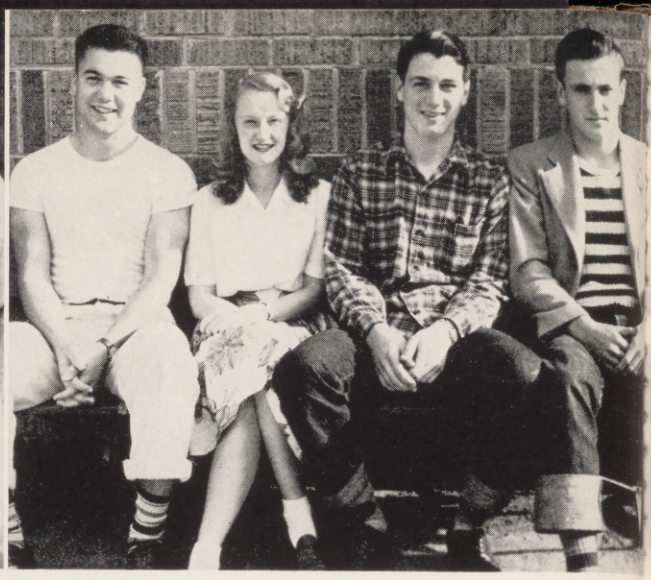

and its program has a very important place in the fight to preserve democracy. It has brought before the students the importance of their full coöperation and effort during the war crisis. It has done much to stimulate the students' interest in their studies, their jobs, and their extra-curricular activities.

SEA DIVISION
Sheila Louck, John Vaughn, Dolores Sherwood, Bud Huzefka.

LAND DIVISION
Harvey Doron, Mary Wadell, Jim O'Drain, Len Sullivan.

Sea Division

The Sea Division of the Victory Corps, although comprised of both boys and girls, was primarily established to prepare members for a future in the U. S. Navy. Another important purpose is to encourage the students to help in the war effort while still attending high school.

The captain of the Sea Division is Darrol Huzefka, and his committee is Delores Sherwood, John Vaughn, and Sheila Louck. In the past semester the Sea Division sponsored a very successful Tin Drive, in which many students took an active part.

The first meeting of the Sea Division was held in the auditorium, and the members were entertained by Mr. K. H. Shaffer from the Standard Oil Company. The second program, also held in the auditorium, consisted of two movies, entitled "Aircraft Carrier Hornet," and "West Point."

The members of the Sea Division also helped out in Room 12 in the mornings before school and also arranged many attractive showcase displays.

Mr. James Brien was the faculty sponsor of this group.

Land Division

The Land Service Division is one of the most important service divisions in the Victory Corps.

The qualifications for membership in this division require the students to be participating in a physical fitness program, and one important continuing wartime activity or service. In addition to this, the students are required to take one year of high school mathematics, one year of high school laboratory science, a pre-induction course, and a shop course. The student must take at least three of these five courses to be eligible.

Harvey Doron is the chairman of the Land Division and Margot Thorsby is the faculty sponsor. The committee which has taken charge of all the activities consists of Leonard Sullivan, Jim O'Drain, and Mary Waddell.

The purpose of this division is to help prepare the boys for the army and the girls to join the W. A. A. C. The creation of this division has stimulated the interest of the members in the war effort. Girls have taken a greater interest in making surgical dressings, knitting scarfs and afghans for the Red Cross; the boys have taken charge of tin and paper drives, all of which have greatly aided in the war effort.

Community Division

The purpose of the Community Division of the Victory Corps is to prepare students in certain vocations that will help them in future years. This division also encourages students to help in war work, which is a help to the war effort.

Special sections of this division were made for those who were interested in knitting, sewing, and those who served along with the Red Cross in making surgical dressings, utility bags, and pillows.

This term there were two guest speakers who spoke to the students of the community division. Miss Frank Freeman talked about a girls' harvest camp for this summer. Ensign Valora Nelson, a former graduate of R. U. H. S., spoke to the students about her nurses' training she had received in the WAVES.

There were approximately 350 students who enrolled in this division, under the supervision of Miss Blanche Carson. Corrinne Perrelli was the captain of this division, and on her committee were Dorothy DeFabio, Charlotte Shuck, and Louise Filice.

Air Division

Many of our future pilots and air-minded students belong to the Air Division of the Victory Corps.

Harold Rhoades, captain of the Air Division, presided at all the meetings. He had assisting him: Pat Crough, Bob Jones, and George Thompson.

The speaker at the first meeting was a Standard Oil Company representative, Mr. K. A. Shaffer. At a later meeting Bob Murdock gave a short talk on the making of model airplanes. Toward the end of the term a general meeting of all divisions was held and insignias were presented to eligible members.

The most important achievement of this group was the sponsoring of the book drive. Through the efforts of this drive two hundred books were collected and turned over to the Red Cross.

Mrs. Rydberg has been the faculty adviser and sponsor of this group.

Although this was the smallest of the Victory Corps groups, fourteen members received their insignias.

COMMUNITY SERVICE DIVISION
Corrinne Perrelli, Louise Filice, Dorothy DeFabio, Charlotte Shuck.

AIR DIVISION
Harold Rhoades, George Thompson (kneeling), Pat Crough, Bob Jones.

PRODUCTION DIVISION
Donald Bergeson, Charles Seger,
Robert Rowley.

GENERAL DIVISION
Standing—Barbara Hislop, Irene Christensen.
Kneeling—Charles Katz, Stanley Morken.

Production Division

The Production Division of the Victory Corps is directed by Mr. Baker and under the leadership of Chuck Seger.

The committee of this division has worked together with the students to encourage them to train for more war work. The members of this committee are Donald Bergeson, Bob Rowley, and John Traverso, and the secretary is Betty Staussy.

This division has had two meetings this term, one in which they had as speaker Mr. K. A. Shaffer from the Standard Oil Company.

The other meeting consisted of two movies, "The Arm Behind the Army," and "School Activities at War."

They have also made a large display in the showcase called "By Industries."

The membership includes students who are working part time, commercial students and "on to college" students.

At the end of the term twenty-five members received awards for extra-curricular work.

General Division

The main purpose of the General Division is to prepare sophomore students for the other divisions of the Victory Corps. They may join the other divisions as soon as they are juniors.

Irene Christensen acted as captain, and her assistants were Barbara Hislop, Charles Katz, and Stanley Morken.

At a meeting held on April 13, the General Division saw a movie entitled "Keep 'Em Rolling." The movie explained the great necessity for the conservation of rubber in industry and agriculture.

The main achievement of the General Division this term was the "Junk Jewelry Drive." The division received telephone calls from officials of Martinez and Redwood City, asking details on the drive, with the idea in mind of starting one in their own towns. The purpose of the drive was to collect junk jewelry of all kinds for the use of our armed forces.

Committee members of the drive were: Margaret Howell, in charge of posters; Charles Katz, publicity; and Betty Lee Brown, collection.

The General Division was under the supervision of Mrs. Blonski.

GIRLS' SHOP CLASSES

GIRL PRINTERS
Marian Retynski and Sheila Louck.

Because of the changing world and the influx of industry into this city a new department has been added to the school, known as metal work for girls.

The girls learned to run lathes, planers and millers. Cutting threads is another talent the girls acquired. During the term various girls took turns in the tool crib, so they could become better acquainted with the sizes and shapes of the many different tools.

Roxie Barnes and Helen Spirlock have acquired enough knowledge to obtain good jobs in the shipyards. The other girls taking the course have various future interests. The W. A. A. C.'s are now seeking recruits who have had some mechanical experience, so that they can drive jeeps and repair them. Several of the girls seem interested in this.

GIRLS' SHOP CLASS

First row—Pat Mullaby, Verla Smith, Dorothy Stevenson, Karel Abel.

Our school has been fairly buzzing with activity, as various students have been working like fury for the Red Cross.

During the semester thirty-six scarves, six beanies, six stump socks, three spiral socks, four bed socks, sixteen knee pads, four Navy sweaters, five watch caps, and four helmets were knitted.

A total of 100,000 surgical dressings has been made, under the supervision of Claire Smith, assisted by Beverly Rickard. Both girls have won their hundred hour pins. Ruby Lou Weaver, who turns out 100 dressings an hour, and who may well be called "a one-man mass production line," has been named the surgical dressings chairman for next semester.

The sewing committee, under the chairmanship of Lois Barry, has turned out 200 utility bags and fifty fracture pillows.

In addition to this work, the Junior Red Cross has assisted in serving at the Red Cross drive and blood bank luncheons, made cookies for the blood bank, assisted the Civilian Defense, sent favors to the men at Camp Stoneman, and sent 200 wash cloths to the boys in Alaska.

RED CROSS

Standing—Claire Smith, Beverly Rickard.
Seated—Loretta Addison, Harriet Eagy, Edwynna Perry, Geraldine Johnson.

Humor

is the background of a student; the background of a school; and the background of a nation. Without humor, school would be of little value. Without the humorous understanding of others there would be no nation. Preserve humor by preserving democracy.
